Each custom firearm is a unique work of art containing hand created content. As a result, no two firearms are exactly alike, and features may vary between individual pieces. Final products may not exactly match depictions in advertisements.

These commemorative 1911 pistols by Auto-Ordnance are designed to honor the 250th Anniversary of the founding of the Army on June 14, 1775. They serve as a tribute to the many men and women who have served over its two and a half centuries of history.

This commemorative piece is based on the classic Auto-Ordnance M1911A1 Government Issue profile and chambered in .45 ACP. It boasts a distinctive and durable finish, with the upper slide coated in Cerakote OD Green and the lower frame in Cerakote Coyote Tan. The pistol's controls, such as the safety, slide stop, and magazine release, are finished in a contrasting Black Oxide, adding to its striking appearance.

The slide itself is rich with detailed commemorative engravings. On the right side, "United States of America" is engraved, centered under the ejection port, surrounded by a single star on both sides; this lettering is subdued, matching the Cerakote OD Green of the slide. Towards the front of the right slide, a "250 Anniversary banner" is engraved and distinctively painted in Cerakote FX Gold. The left side of the slide features bold "ARMY" lettering, also with subdued engraving in Cerakote OD Green. A unique detail is found on the top of the slide, which features a CNC design depicting the layout of the US Army dress uniform. This design is accented with Cerakote Black lines and Cerakote FX Gold buttons, adding another layer of symbolic tribute.

The custom laser-engraved wood grips are a standout feature. The right grip panel depicts a colonial soldier, acknowledging the Army's origins, while the left grip panel showcases a modern-day soldier, representing the Army's continued service and evolution. These pistols aim to be a tangible homage to the legacy and ongoing dedication of Army personnel.
